

The U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims

Washington, DC

April 14-15, 2016

THIRTEENTH JUDICIAL CONFERENCE

A NEW GENERATION OF VETERANS, A NEW GENERATION OF CHALLENGES

Pursuant to section 7286 of title 38 of the U.S. Code, Chief Judge Lawrence B. Hagel has summoned the judges of the United States Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims to the Court's 13th Judicial Conference. The conference is titled "A New Generation of Veterans, A New Generation of Challenges." According to the Chief Judge, the conference theme reflects an understanding that today's service members confront unique conditions and face new and different challenges of recovery and integration as they adjust to civilian life.

During the conference, stakeholders from all facets of the veterans law community will gather to consider a variety of legal, medical, and other issues facing today's veterans who pursue claims for VA benefits. Conference speakers will focus on topics relevant to this new generation of veterans, including National Guard and Reserve issues, toxin exposure claims, disability benefit questionnaire issues, extraschedular evaluation, and claims based on traumatic brain injury, military sexual trauma, and muscle injury due to improvised explosive devices. Justice Sonia Sotomayor will deliver the keynote address of the event.

Veterans of recent conflicts are the subjects of more and more U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims decisions. In Ausmer v. Principi, 26 Vet. App. 2, 34 (2013), the Court considered a previously late-filed appeal from a decorated U.S. Army veteran who honorably served stateside in Operation Desert Storm, in Iraq during Operation Iraqi Freedom, and in Afghanistan and Qatar during Operation Enduring Freedom. The Court found the appeal timely, holding that the hardships of Mr. Ausmer's "deployment and military service materially affected his ability to protect his legal rights."
